Spring Fashions In Carmel--

AH, SPRING — Lions and lambs, plus kites and kids, plus rain and wind, plus lush greenery, and most of all, lovely models in even lovelier spring fashions. From left, Eleanor Thielen of The Toggery, Paul Windhelm of Flair, Paula Jones of Mark Raggett, and Shelly Evans of Anything Goes.

Carmel–Center of Fashion

By Charles Strosnider

There is definitely a Carmel Look!

You see it on the women.

You see it on the men.

Even the sons and daughters have a clothing flair that sets them apart.

You doubt it? Take a week-end stroll down Ocean Avenue and observe the admixture of tourists and hippies. Then contrast their appearance with that of friends and acquaintances among our local citizenry. You see?

Let's try it in a different setting. Observe those you know locally at the next golf tournament, dog show, equestrian event, road race (we'll overlook the jazz festivals) —all national or regional affairs. Observe critically, analytically — you're proud of them. That's the Carmel Look.

How can it be described? That which is tasteful!

A blend of styles determined by individual tastes, but not subservient to fads. Not gaudy, but not gray-flannel-suit. Distinctive patterns in understated distinctiveness. Underplayed elegance.

Let the San Francisco columnist speak of our LOL's in "baggy old tweeds" — has he seen our departed "Knit Dress Nettie," or our "Twins" who dressed identically in the most tasteful of clothes, coiffed and elegant in carriage.

Carmel gets its style its Look — from the true sophistication of its people, whether brought here or born here. Perhaps the aura of the natural beauty combined with the variety of things to do expands the soul of each, breaks the tedium of monotonous sameness and stimulates the expression of individual taste.

Not only Carmel shops know this — for the owners are an integral part of the scene — but the national designers and manufacturers too are aware. Styles, patterns and cuts are designed for the Carmel market and can seldom be seen anywhere else.

There is a flair to Carmel. There is an underplayed distinctiveness. There is a casual sophistication. There is a certain amount of sloppy indifference — but with elen. There is the Mod, Mod but why does it come through just "right"?

There is a Carmel Look! Carmel is a center of fashion!

Thus, as befits the beginning of the vernal equinox, this issue of the Pine Cone is devoted to SPRING!

City To Consider Cafe At Sunset

In addition to a tour of Sunset Center facilities, conducted by Sunset Center Manager Cole Weston, members of the city's Planning and Cultural Commissions received yesterday afternoon from City Administrator Hugh Bayless a staff report strongly recommending that a commercial restaurant be established on the city's Sunset property.

"It has been generally agreed," the report began, "that the addition of a restaurant to Sunset Center would be desirable. . .

"While discussions have not gone beyond a luncheon restaurant, it should be kept in mind that in many auditoriums and theaters, there is a lounge or bar adjacent to the foyer which serves the theater patrons during intermission."

For the residential community which the city's municipal code has been saying for 40 years that Carmel is, it would seem that Carmel already has more than enough restaurants for a city with a regular population of less than 5,000. A quick check of the yellow section of the phone book shows that there are already 38 restaurants within Carmel's city limits, all of which are presumably paying taxes to the city on the basis of what business they can manage to do and what holdings they may have.—GUNNAR NORBERG.

CBA Panel Set To Discuss Parking

Carmel's parking problem, which becomes more critical each day, will be the subject of a panel discussion at a dinner of the Carmel Business Association to be held at the La Playa Hotel on Thursday evening, Mar. 27.

The blue-ribbon group that will take up the problem of Carmel's parking and traffic problems is made up of Walter McCloud, acting chairman of the Parking/Traffic Committee; William Sefton and Robert Spencer, both of the Parking/Traffic Commission; Hugh Bayless, City Administrator; Clayton Neill Sr., City Engineer and Clyde Klaumann, Carmel Chief of Police.

The group will air the problem as it is today, the present possibilities of solutions and the potential that faces the city.

All residents of Carmel are urged to attend this meeting, whether or not they are members of the CBA.

Agatha Christie Thriller 'Ten Little Indians' Opens at Circle Theatre

"Ten Little Indians," by Agatha Christie, the chiller-thriller success of the London and New York stage, will have its opening night performance on Friday, Mar. 28, at the Circle Theatre, Carmel, as presentation of the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula.

The play is based on Miss Christie's novel about some grisly murders on a desolate island off the coast of Devon, England, accomplished to the Mother Goose rhyme of jingly annihilation.

A doctor who has bungled an operation, a detective who has framed an innocent man, a general who has sent his wife's lover on a suitcide misison, a judge who has senteced an innocent man to die, and two servants who had killed a former employer for a legacy are among the ten assorted guests at a sinister old house on lonely Indian Island, the weird setting for "Ten Little Indians."

Invited by a mysterious host none of the motley group has met, the guests are chatting over cocktails when a death-like voice over a loudspeaker announces that each of them is guilty of murder, and asks if they have anything to say in their defense. As they are exchanging data on themselves, the young man who has been accused by "the voice" of having run down two children while driving recklessly has a violent convulsion and dies.

Then one after another of the china Indians on the mantlepiece vanish, and as they disappear one more guest is mysteriously killed. One is garroted, one stabbed, another pushed off a cliff, and so on.

President of the Community Theatre Richard Bragg has assigned Michael Keller to direct "Ten Little Indians." Keller most recently directed the Circle's superb production of "The Lion In Winter," seen earlier this season.

Assisting him will be Ruth Fry as stage-manager, John-Robert Nichols in charge of sets, Martin Brown as sound technician, Jeanne Graham handling properties, and Mabel Craig on costumes.

After its opening, "Ten Little Indians" will play weekends, Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30, and 7:30 on Sundays for six weeks through May 3. Reservations and group discount bookings may be made by calling the theatre box office at 624-2669.

Baseball team to open season

This year's baseball team under the guidance of David Martula, will open its season this weekend with three games, one against Woodside Priory at home and two against Menlo High away.

The team is beginning to take some shape and the probable players on the team include Barry Nathan, Eric Paulsen, Eric Haas, Jeff Erlandson, Arthur Lara, Gordon Bradley, Paul Lindersmith, Bill Jenkins, John Reilly, Larry Hall, Howard Brocker, Barry Biggerstaff, and Pat Anderson. Tom Gardner and Mark Pomeroy are managers.

On the same Saturday, the RLS tennis team will also play against Menlo School. This year's tennis team is undefeated and the Monterey Peninsula High School champions, for it has defeated Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel. In its match against Burlingame High School, considered the No. 1 tennis team in the Bay area, the RLS team won 5½-3½.

Freshman Class to Hold Dance

On Saturday, Mar. 22, the Freshman class is planning a dance in the gymnasium. This dance will feature as the band The Flying Circus. However, the outstanding feature of this dance will be the use of computer dates. The purpose of the computer dating system is to "match-up" individuals with similar interests. The dance should be a tremendous success.

St Pat's Is Great Day for Irish

By Jewel White

March 17th seems to have been the date supposed to be the birthday of the favorite and most beloved of Patron Saints, St. Patrick.

No positive record exists to prove that it is not, instead . . . his death. Facts do prove that it was the year 386 A.D., in the village of Nemphur, out of Glastenburg, England, however . . . we wanted to get all of our factual-trivia factual, so we again invaded the halls of the Carmel library and were assisted by Edith Chester, who's eyes held the twinkity-twinkle of this legendary rascal, by the time we had compiled all of our "Green" facts.

Though another favorite legend places his birth at Toures, France, we go along with it far enough to agree that he did, indeed, land in Northern Ireland. There he rose from Christian Evangelist to the rank of Bishop.

This promotion was granted because St. Pat drove all of the vermin and snakes out of Ireland. He also led a parade with drummer boy in front, much as the Salvation Army does, today) to the Hill-of-Slane and lit a Paschal Fire to outshine the Druidical Fire on the Hill-of-TARA.

"And the toads went HOP, and the frogs went FLOP . . . slapdash into the water.

And the beasties committed suicide to save themselves from slaughter."

The Shamrock was selected as his banner because it was the symbol of the great Trinity, and the Green Harp on the field of white was the National Flag that he carried.

Every March 17th, good men and true met to guzzle a St.-Pat's-Pot-of-grog with a small piece of oaten bread and fish. Some stayed there under-the-table, but the rest wended their sometimes crooked way, up the hill to kiss the Blarney Stone. . . .

"ATTENTION: . . . all members of the Carmel Valley Gem & Mineral Society, Inc. (of which we are a member). Let's us find such a rock and bring it to Carmel to be placed in the park on Ocean Ave. Then, ALL who seek to become happy, gay, loving individuals could kiss it daily. Maybe this is what the world needs most. . . . Love, Love, Love.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

Taller Than Bandai Mountain, by Dan D'Amelio is an inspirational biography which manages not to sound like a put-on. It is realistically written, but it just so happens that the hero, Hideyo Noguchi, was an exceptional man.

He began life with two barriers to his ever becoming a doctor. His family's poverty was one almost insurmountable barrier, but his maimed left hand made even the simple tasks difficult. At the end of the book it gives the inscription on his tomb, which gives an idea of the kind of man he was. It says:

Hideyo Noguchi
Born in Inawashiro, Japan
November 24, 1876
Died on the Gold Coast,
Africa, May 21, 1928

Isaac Asimov, who has written in the field of science, both fiction and nonfiction, has also contributed many fine works in the field of history, such as The Greeks: A Great Adventure; The Roman Republic, The Roman Empire and The Egyptians.

We have just received a new one called The Near East: 10,000 Years of History. Chapter by chapter he covers prehistory to the Six-Day War, making it readable and understandable.

This book is helpful for reference, as it is well indexed. It also has a table of dates which begins at 8500 B.C. (it notes that the dates before 1000 B.C. are approximate) and ends with 1967, stating briefly: "Israel defeats Arab nations in Six-Day War."

The Pretender Princess by Mary Jane Roth is a nice little story about Clara Dobbs, who was sent to her room without supper. Instead of pouting or complaining, she concluded that her real parents would never treat her this way, so she must not belong to them. She decides that she is really a princess. Her behavior begins to change. She gives up playing hop-scotch with her best friend, and walks slowly and regally so that her seven-pound crown does not tip. Her so-called parents can't understand what has come over her, but Princess Clarice does not tell them. Finally, the burdens of being a princess (mainly the seven-pound crown) outweigh the benefits, and she again becomes just plain Clara Dobbs.

'Born Yesterday' Tryouts Mar. 23, 24

The Studio Theater, Dolores St., Carmel, will hold try-outs Sunday, Mar. 23 at 2 p.m. and Monday, Mar. 24 at 7 p.m., to select a cast for the Garson Kanin comedy "Born Yesterday."

The leads are Billie Dawn, an ex-chorine who admits to 29 birthdays, Harry Brock, a self-made tycoon who thinks he owns her, and Paul Verrall, a thirtyish magazine writer engaged by Brock to smooth off Billie's rough edges, with the inevitable consequences. Judy Holliday, Paul Douglas and Gary Merrill played these roles in the original production whose 1642 performances made it the fifth longest running non-musical in Broadway history.

Other principal parts are Ed Devery, Brock's supine lawyer, Eddie, his cousin and general flunky, Sen. and Mrs. Norval Hedges and Helen, a hotel maid. There are lesser roles for other hotel employees in the cast of 14.

Director Dave Kirk urges anyone interested to attend tryouts either or both times, as a cast of this size affords opportunity for those with little or no exerience to assume many of the parts. Further information may be obtained by calling 624-1661 or 624-2321.

"Born Yesterday" is scheduled to open at the Studio on May 9 for a run of seven weekends.

Creative Films At MPC

"The Creative Cinema," a collection of 26 short art films by the world's leading experimental film-makers, will be presented in two Wednesday evening programs Mar. 19 and 26 at Monterey Peninsula College, 8 p.m. in MPC lecture-forum 103.

The Mar. 19 program, entitled "The California Underground," will feature such works as Lenny Lipton's eight-minute "We Shall March Again," Herbert Kosower's three-minute "The "F a c e," Bruce Baillie's "Mass" and "Castro Street."

The Mar. 26 program, "The International Creative Cinema," will feature films from Canada, England, France, Holland, Poland, Hungary and the United States.

'Backyard' Unique Boys Haberdashery

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bliesner have a store of fashions in their backyard.

The Bliesner's have recently opened a shop for young men called the Backyard for Boys, since they felt that Carmel has long needed a clothing store of this type.

Alys Bliesner, whose maiden name was Knight, spent her childhood in Carmel, where her father Allen Knight served as mayor in the early 1950s. She attended Carmel High School and MPC.

With four children of their own, two of them boys, the Bliesners have a feel and affinity for what boys want in the ways of fashions.

"We're offering the adult, masculine look in boy's clothing, Mrs. Bliesner says, "trying to counteract that baby look in boy's wear."

The Backyard carries clothes for the younger set ranging from casual to sportswear to dressy. Personal attention in fitting each boy is absolutely essential, because the customer in the Backyard can be every bit as particular as his adult in buying clothes.

Most of their selections are coordinated items, one pair of slacks that will match four different jackets, as well as the other way around.

The Bliesner boys, Todd, five and Cory, seven, often wear matching outfits from the Backyard, and on occasion have been the store's best salesmen.

Roger Fremier, Carmel photographer and Alys' brother-in-law, shot the pictures for the ad on this page and the spring fashion shot on page 15.

Adobe Walking Tour Announced

Plans for "A Walk Through History" were contained in a letter to Monterey History and Art Association members recently from Maggie Downer, chairman of the 1969 Monterey Adobe Tour which will take place on Saturday, Apr. 26.

Her committee has chosen the twelve historic buildings from Monterey's architectural heritage that it feels will best lend themselves as backgrounds to a number of "live-action" costumed vignettes of early California.

Included in the tour will be California's First Brick House, the Old Whaling Station, California's First Theater, Casa Soberanes (The House of the Blue Gate), Casa Serrano, Colton Hall, the Larkin House, the House of the Four Winds, Casa Amesti, Casa Abrego, the Stevenson House and the Royal Presidio Chapel.

The Estrada Adobe will provide a gracious setting for the tea to be served to those enjoying the tour.

As the first official event of the year-and-a-half long Bicentennial Celebration, this year's Adobe Tour will be the most picturesque ever.

Larry Horan Wins Tennis Tourney

Carmel attorney Larry Horan conquered a record field to emerge the overall winner in the third annual Press-Bar Association Tennis Invitation.

More than 40 players competed for the coveted title Sunday at the Beach and Tennis Club courts.

Horan, who was also winner of the bar association division of the tournament, was playing in his first Press-Bar event.

Newmen and members of the Monterey County Bar Association came from both Salinas and the Monterey Peninsula to compete in the tournament, according to host pro Don Hamilton.

The event is conducted as a round-robin doubles with winners from six flights meeting in a semi-final and final play off.

Alliance Dinner Dance Prize Winners

By Phyllis Jervey

At last week's French Alliance costume dinner dance, the judges had a puzzling time trying to decide to whom to award the prizes.

Mrs. John Dowdakin came in a turn-of-the century pink taffeta ball gown which had been made in Paris for Phyllis Jervey's mother some years ago. Madeleine wore the dress and accessories with the same chic that its original owner had at Maxim's. The prize awarded was for the most beautifully authentic costume.

Petite Mrs. Jack Harris came as a black French poodle and easily captured the prize for the most original and intriguing get-up. Led on a leash attached to her jeweled collar, by Mr. Edward F. Hogan, Mrs. Harris in black tights and black ostrich feathers in the right places, captivated everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Corbat were judged the most amusing pair. Henri was the TV sensation "Mister Spock from Star Trek" and his vivacious wife Alana was a provocative red bantam rooster representing the current "Year of the Chinese Rooster."

To top off all this ingenuity, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Higgins were the most imaginative couple. Greg was an exact replica of the Jolly Green Giant while diminutive Dianne was Miss Pea Pod with small bouncing green balloons. They had created the costumes entirely themselves.

The most outstanding native costume, judged as the BEST OF ALL regardless of category, was justly awarded to Mrs. Jehanne Bietry-Salinger-Carlson. Jehanne wore her ancestors' Alsatian "Going-to-Mass" outfit with great charm, telling about the small prayer book carried by family members years ago.

The master of ceremonies in his own special Sheik's garb also received a prize and told amusing stories as only Ted Durein himself can do.

Special mention went to Mrs. James Hathaway who gave the awards and was lovely in chiffon sari. And so, au revoir until next year's Mi-Careme.

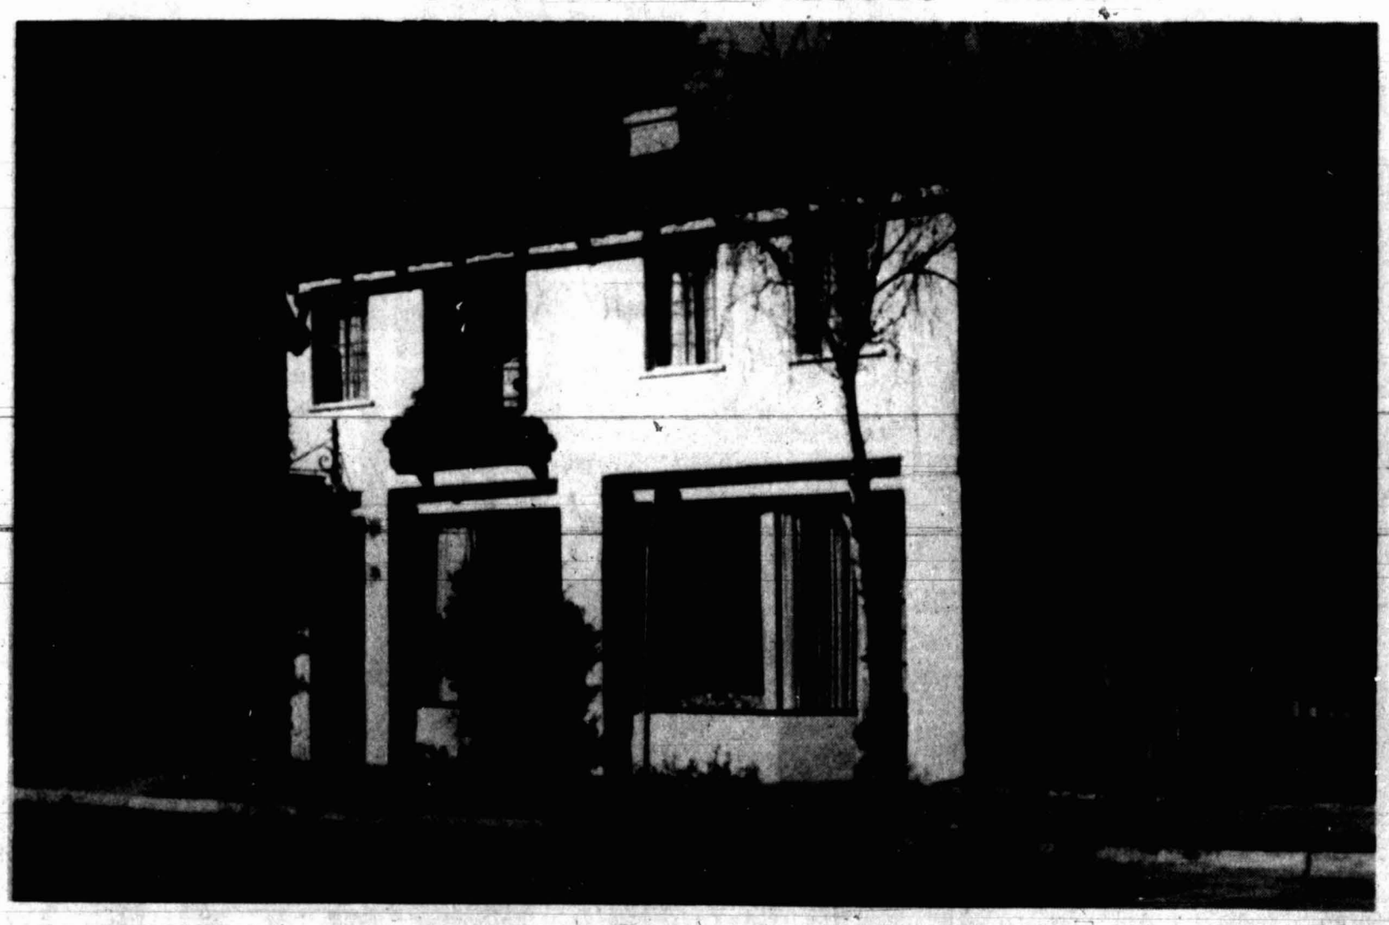
CARMEL BUSINESSES



The Carmel Inn, one of the village's historic landmarks, has been completely renovated and redecorated so that it now offers a new concept in Carmel for the elderly.

Set in the midst of a lovely garden atmosphere, the rest home will provide 24-hour attendance, a registered nurse administration, private and semi-private rooms, a color television in every bedroom, all meals and snacks and all care and services exclusive of doctors visits and medicine.

In addition the Carmel Inn will supply lounge facilities on both floors for its guests, transportation, personal laundry and ironing and a variety of recreational activities.

Conveniently located in the village close to all the shops, the Carmel Inn is built on a level walk which makes walking easier for its guests.

It was Mr. W. E. Patton and Mr. Charles E. Sylvester who decided to remake the inn into a rest home. Mrs. Sylvester, a registered nurse, who has had a wide background of experience in working with the elderly, was chosen as the Nurse-Administrator. Their whole idea, she said, is to create a comfortable and congenial atmosphere more like that of a home than a medical institution, although there will be 24-hour care and emergency medical facilities available.

All their residents must be ambulatory and not require extensive medical care. The Carmel Inn is the type of rest home, for persons not ill enough to be in a convalescent hospital but find a private home a little too difficult to handle.

Sunshine, spring and Carmel. And Shelly Evans seems to be enjoying it in an Arpeja cotton dress from Anything Goes.

SPECIAL SYMPHONY GUEST — Pianist Dimitri Bashkirov will appear with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra for the fourth concert of the season at Monterey Peninsula College on Mar. 23 and at Sunset Auditorium in Carmel on Mar. 24.

Russian Pianist Symphony Soloist

One of Russia's most talented young pianists will be featured guest soloist when the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra conducted by Haymo Taeuber performs on Sunday, Mar. 23rd, and Tuesday, Mar. 25th.

He is Dimitri Bashkirov, who is touring North America under the auspices of the Cultural Exchange Program. Carmel residents who are unable to attend the regular Tuesday evening concert at Sunset Auditorium, which is practically sold out, can hear this outstanding artist at Monterey Peninsula College's new Gymnasium Auditorium on Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Described as a "fiery and passionate pianist" by critics, Bashkirov received his first public recognition while still only seven years of age when he came to the attention of government musical authorities. He was awarded a music scholarship which enabled him to study at the Tiflis Conservatory of Music and the Moscow Aspirant Conservatory. In 1955, he won first prize in the Marguerite Long-Jacques Thibeaud Competition. This is considered to be one of the world's most important musical awards.

His keyboard mastery will be displayed via Robert Schumann's "Piano Concerto in A Minor." The 70-member orchestra will also present Richard Wagner's prelude to "Tristan und Isolde," the symphonic poem "Death and Transfiguration" by Richard Strauss, and Maurice Ravel's "Bolero."

Tickets for the concert at the college are now on sale at the Symphony Office in Sunset Center and at other locations throughout the Monterey Peninsula. They are nominally priced for students and children.

Very limited seating is available for the concert in Carmel. Information can be obtained by calling 624-4125.

Symphonie d'Elegance Well Attended

More than 420 women attended the Symphony Guild luncheon at Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club on Tuesday. It was the largest number they had ever had.

Tables were decorated with blue, pink and yellow primroses and blue cineraria in brightly colored pots to match the spring colors worn by the guests.

The warmth of Gisele MacKenzie's personality came over as she commented on the beautiful I. Magnin clothes worn by the attractive models under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jack Stein, Jr. who modelled a white jump suit with white ermine jacket.

Symphony conductor Haymo Taeuber and Mrs. Taeuber were introduced by Mrs. Monte Harrington, general chairman of the event. Kaye was also among the lovely models. The gold chains decorating one of the white gowns she wore matched her hair.

Pants suits were the hit of the day. Mrs. Basil Coleman was marvelous in a white eyelet tunic pants suit. Mrs. Janice Jones was great in white chiffon trimmed with ostrich. This too was a pants suit with tunic top.

Among the door prizes, an etching by Jeannette Maxwell Lewis was won by Dinah Woods. A silver tray from Holman's was won by Mrs. O. W. Irwin of Pebble Beach.

A beautiful painting of the sand dunes by Mrs. Kenneth McNaughton was won by Miss Florence Smith of the Hacienda.

Mrs. Ray March models a beach outfit for Symphony luncheon.

Mrs. Kenneth Gardner is ready for the beach as she models at the Symphonie d'-Elegance.

Miss Valerie Scott models one of the new tunic coat pants outfits for the Symphony luncheon.

FOR MEN ONLY!

There will be a 2nd Symphony Preview FOR MEN ONLY before the March concerts of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra.

Our distinguished Conductor-Director, Mr. Haymo Taeuber, will explain parts of the music to be heard by playing, on stereo, sections of the music which will be renered and about which he will talk, covering such points as the instruments that will be used, why and how the music was inspired and written.

Please come, bring a friend and enjoy a good lunch and interesting talk about a subject we all love.

Friday, Mar. 21, is the date, Dutch Motor Lodge, Monterey the place. The no-host lunch will be at noon, and the preview will be from 1 to 1:30 p.m.

Please call 624-2048 or 624-4125 for reservations.

PIANO VIRTUOSO — Raymond Lewenthal will bring works by Alkan, French romantic composer, to the Sunset Auditorium stage Friday evening, at 8:30 p.m. for the Carmel Music Society. Musical Comments

Smetana Quartet Smash Hit At MPC

By Margot Hyatt

The moment the Smetana Quartet began "The Hunt" Quartet by Mozart, we knew we were in for superb performance at Monterey Peninsula College Saturday evening.

Playing with no score, heads tossing, and with much torso movement, the Mozart was given the animated, sometimes lyrical, sometimes delicate, but always impeccable treatment it deserves.

Bravos and many recalls expressed the appreciation of an audience divided between college students, obviously enjoying themselves, and older members of the community.

But the Janacek Quartet No. 2 "Intimate Pages" really sent the audience. Following a strong attack, the tensions created by the cello and viola being bowed near the bridge were lost in the interesting dissonances which underlay the many themes. Some seemed to be telling a sad story, others describing a merry dance, still another a frightening incident.

But always the story was vital and worth telling, in contrast with much contemporary music. Written in 1923, the quartet is listed in the Schwann catalog as having been recorded by the Smetana Quartet for Artia.

The Quartet No. 1 "From My Life" by Smetana in which the rich tones of the cello and viola in the longer phrases were subtly joined with the lighter strings, seemed not quite so exciting, in spite of the lively polka and rhythmic vivace movements.

However the audience rose to its feet and called for more. When the quartet complied with the completely captivating finale from Dvorak's American Quartet, one young man sitting behind the quartet on the stage raised his arms with delight and the rest of his companions couldn't keep their hands or heads quiet during its exquisite execution. It was a double pleasure to hear the music and watch the young people enjoy it.

It was Angie Machado of Carmel who retired from MPC music department last year, who was responsible for bringing the quartet here.

Boyer to Play in Hawaii

Gilbert Boyer, concert pianist, is playing a solo concert on Thursday, Mar. 20, in Hawaii. The Church College of Hawaii in Laie will present him on its Lyceum Series. His program will be the Rondo Capriccioso of Mendelssohn; Sonata, Op. 58 of Chopin; Three Preludes and Estampes by Debussy and Gaspard de la Nuit of Ravel. This same program will be given at Sunset Cultural Center by Mr. Boyer in April.

Makes Dean's List

Pamela Ann Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Carmel, has been named to the dean's honor roll for the fall semester at the University of New Mexico college of education. Pam is a sophomore majoring in physical education.

Wild Flowers Lecture At Woman's Club

At the House and Garden Section of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday, Mar. 24th, at 2 p.m. in the Clubhouse, Edward M. Seifert will show his slides of wild flowers with accompanying comment. Mr. Seifert, a resident of Carmel Valley, has pursued photography of nature subjects as a hobby for a number of years. He will be introduced by Mrs. Fred G. Reynolds, section chairman. Guests of members are welcome.

Mrs. C. O. Hooker and Mrs. Herbert W. Wagner will greet these attending and pouring at the tea tables during the social hour will be Mrs. Fred L. Farley, Mrs. E. G. Friez, Mrs. J. Randolph Kennedy and Mrs. E. H. Langston. Mrs. W. E. Williams will lead the Pledge of Allegiance.

Former Carmel Resident Will Present Danube Film At Sunset on Mar. 22

Philip Walker, one of America's leading travel and adventure producers and a former Carmel resident, will appear in person Saturday, Mar. 22 at Sunset Auditorium in Carmel to narrate his 2-hour color film "The Blue Danube" at 8:15 p.m. His film follows the Danube River as it flows through parts of West Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Rumania.

Walker recalls his boyhood on the Monterey Peninsula as an "intimate friendship with the out-of-doors and an introduction to adventure."

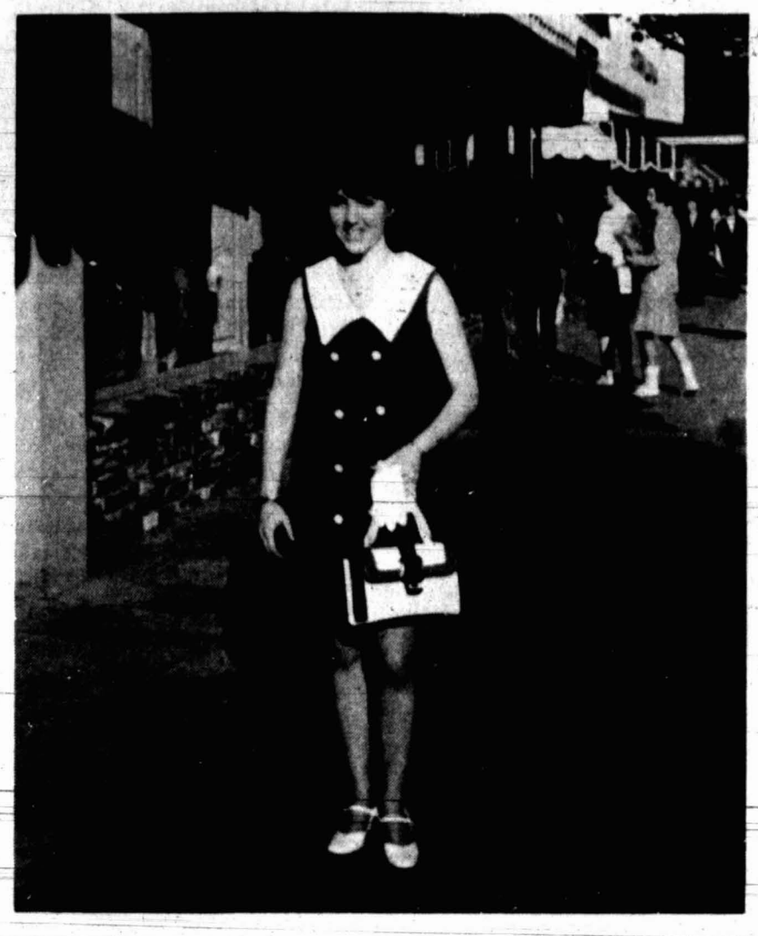
In his early years he spent a great deal of time camping in the California woods, fishing and sailing. He attended two California colleges and one university. During World War II he became a ship's deck officer for the Army Transportation Corps in the Southwest Pacific. His wartime services included sailing a 75-foot sea going tug through mine and enemy infested waters from Australia to the Philippines.

Walker studied drama and had been an actor in Carmel's Summer Theatre. Following World War II he joined the National Broadcasting Company as an announcer.

In 1961 he became the first American to cross the Swiss Alps in a free floating balloon. The account of this spectacular feat was featured in the National Geographic Magazine's 75th Anniversary issue in 1963.

Phil Walker and his wife Florence spent six months in the production of "The Blue Danube." The footage taken in Czechoslovakia was the last to be taken by a foreign photographer before the recent Russian invasion.

Reserved seat tickets are now available at the Central Box Office in Carmel and Abinante Music Store in Monterey.



LOVELINESS JONES — MARK RAGGETT features this spring-time double-breasted royal blue dress with white buttons and white collar. Claudia Jones is inside the creation.

SWEEPING MAJESTY — The Danube divides the cities of Buda and Pest in Hungary, and sweeps on towards its outlet in Rumania. Scene from Philip Walker's "Tales of the Blue Danube" at the Sunset on Saturday, Mar. 22.

Witter Predicts Feeder Airline Rider Increase

The number of pleasure travelers flying on supplemental airlines is due for a sharp increase during the next five years, according to Dean Witter & Co.

In a research study on the supplemental airline industry, Dean Witter analysts predicted that the supplemental's share of personal air travel will jump from 5% of the current market to 10-15% of the market by 1973.

An important factor in the development of new commercial business is recent legislation which permits travel agents to arrange Inclusive Tour Charters with supplemental carriers. Under ITC authority, travel agents are permitted to form groups of individuals solely for the purpose of traveling on supplementals.

In addition, the expanding air freight business, the defense department's willingness to maintain a "merchant marine of the air" after Vietnam, and increased capacity provide a take-off point for the industry.

"Earnings have been held down, not for the want of traffic increases, but because the supplementals have not had sufficient equipment to service their fast-growing commercial markets," the report said.

Large orders for jet aircraft are expected to alleviate the equipment deficiency, according to the Dean Witter research staff.

Dean Witter recommends Overseas National Airways and Capitol International Airways due to their "strong commercial orientations, modern aircraft fleets, above average management, and prospects of large earnings gains."

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth." This is the Golden Text of the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be heard at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Matter."

Passages from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will include the following: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning."

Jehovah's Witnesses Convention Set For San Jose On Mar. 21-23

Monterey Peninsula Jehovah's Witnesses will attend their first convention of 1969 at San Jose on Mar. 21-23. According to Henry Nordstrom, presiding minister of the Monterey congregation, over 250 delegates from the Monterey and Pacific Grove congregations will be among the 1800 expected for the gathering. Congregations from the southern fringe of San Jose to Greenfield in the Salinas valley have been invited to attend.

Among local residents officially caring for duties at the religious assembly are: William Lange of Carmel, directing the baptism of new ministers; Joe Pakan, assistant convention manager; William Smoley and Gary Goetz, in charge of the dining room; and Ralph Brink, food purchasing; all of Pacific Grove.

The convention begins at 6:45 p.m. Friday with Ted Jaracz, Watchtower district director delivering the address of welcome. Neil Thompson, circuit supervisor and frequent visitor to the Monterey Peninsula, will also be a featured speaker on the three day program.

Program highlights include a mass baptism of new ministers on Saturday afternoon and the free public Bible discourse "Law and Order, When and How?" to be delivered by Jaracz at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday. The conference will come to a close Sunday at 6:00 p.m.

Carmel residents attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gill Cimoly and family, and Clayton and Sally Biggs, and William Lange.

Songs and Square Dancing

Two recent events at All Saint's Parish Hall were well attended, the guitar and folksinging evening and the parish pot luck followed by square dancing.

About 50 young people turned out for the folk songs by Brother William of Australia. They kept him singing for about three hours and joined in themselves.

Nearly 125 came to the pot luck and all ages, from little tykes to high schoolers to grandparents participated in the square dancing that followed.

OBITUARY

Miss Mary Olive Davey, 80, Carmel resident for 15 years, died Mar. 12 at her home on Perry Newberry Way and 6th. Miss Davey was active in All Saints' Episcopal Church, the Carmel Woman's Club, the A.F.A. and gave countless hours of effort to the local Red Cross. For many years she was a secretary in San Francisco and lived in Oakland with her late brother and sister.

Social Security and You

By Raymond MacDonald

Q. Occasionally an employee starts to work for me without showing me his Social Security card, promising faithfully that he will bring it in shortly but never does. What more can I do?

A. Ask your Social Security office for some Forms SS-5 which are applications for Social Security numbers, and also ask for instructions on how to use them. In the meantime, until you have the forms, make a record of the employee's name, address, and his Social Security number if he can give it to you.

Q. My claim for a tetanus shot was rejected by Medicare. The doctor's nurse said that since it was given because I stepped un a nail it should have been covered. Is this right?

A. Yes. Your claim probably did not state the reason for the tetanus. Routine innoculations of tetanus boosters are not covered but in your case when it is used as part of the treatment of an injury, it certainly is a benefit. Return your claim to Medicare with the explanation attached and clearly mark the 1490 "resubmittal".

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o The Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, or phone Social Security office 373-3351).

Organ Concert, Passion Sunday Cantata For Peninsula Community Church

To usher in the Easter season, the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula will offer two special musical events on Saturday and Sunday, Mar. 22 and 23.

On Saturday evening at 8 p.m., George E. Damp will present an organ concert at the church near the mouth of Carmel Valley.

Damp is presently visiting instructor and acting college organist of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. He was formerly a member of the music faculty of Oregon State University and is a graduate of Cornell University, where he earned his M. of A. in musicology.

In 1965 he received a German government grant permitting him to study in Hamburg and Lubeck. He has also carried out work at McGill University in Montreal.

His program, performed on the new Walcker pipe organ at the Community Church will include the Prelude and Fugue in A Minor by J. S. Bach, works of Sweelinck, Muffat, and Brahms, and a sonata for organ (1961) by contemporary composer Robert Barrow.

As part of the regular 10:30 service on Sunday, Mar. 23, a special cantata in keeping with Passion Sunday will be sung by the choir.

Directed by John Farr, the choir will present Dietrich Buxtehude's "Good Christian Men, With Joy Draw Near," scored for full chorus; bass arioso; soprano chorale and organ sinfonia. The text of the cantata comes from Jude 14-15; Revelations 22:12 and a hymn by Erasmus Alber, poet of 1546.

At the same service, Warren Coker, regular organist, will play "Passaglia in D," also by Buxtehude, a German composer who lived from 1637 to 1707.

Social Security Number

"Your Social Security number is the key to the processing of Federal tax returns and should be put on all checks or money orders sent for tax payment," according to Joseph M. Cullen, District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern California.

Cullen said that if the taxpayer's check or money order becomes separated from his tax return during processing, the Social Security number on the payment will make sure it is properly credited to his account.

"If a check without a Social Security number is separated from the return,' he added, "the payment is set aside, and the taxpayer may get a bill."

The check cannot be credited to the taxpayer's account in those cases until he has provided IRS the necessary information to identify the payment.

ERA COMING DOWN

The last witness to the "flapper days" at Pebble Beach is gone.

Cottage Row, built in 1924 as one of the first additions to Del Monte Lodge, is being replaced in a $1 million expansion program.

The once luxurious accommodations were demolished this week and on their bulldozed site 32 new units will be constructed.

For the last 45 years the 20 rooms comprising Cottage Row stood next to the main drive to the Lodge. Overlooking the famous Pebble Beach Golf Links and Carmel Bay beyond, they provided lodging for guests coming from all parts of the world to visit the Seventeen Mile Drive.

In their place will be two new buildings with a total of 32 rooms. Construction will start immediately and is expected to be completed by January, 1970.

Added to the recently opened 16-room Flavin House, the future buildings will bring to 48 the total number of new rooms built in a two-year period.

Cottage Row is gone, but the end of one era marks the beginning of another. Del Monte Lodge, one of the oldest resorts on the West Coast, is also one of the most modern.

Del Monte Opens Flavin House As Luxury Addition

The opening of Flavin House, newest luxury addition to the Del Monte Lodge, was held Mar. 4 during a special dedication at Pebble Beach.

The Lodge's recently completed accommodation is named in honor of the late Martin Flavin, one of the Monterey Peninsula's great writers and winner of the Pulitzer Prize.

The dramatist's daughter and son, Mrs. Flavia Flavin Edgren of Carmel and Tokyo, and Sean Flavin of Carmel Valley, presented A. G. Michaud, president of Del Monte Properties Company, with the family's favorite photograph of their father.

The photograph, taken in 1943 by nationally known photographer Edward Weston, shows Flavin at work in his Carmel study.

Flavin House is the latest accomplishment in Del Monte Properties' program of remodeling and expanding Del Monte Lodge.

The 16 new rooms offer a view of the first fairway of the famous Pebble Beach Golf Links. Each spacious room features either a private deck or patio. All have fireplaces, color television, dressing room with compact refrigerators and separate shower and bath.

Redwood Photos On Exhibit At Museum

"A Walk Through the Redwoods," an exhibition of color prints by Howard King, will be on view through March at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History.

The traveling exhibition, which is destined to appear in many museums, is the property of the Save the Redwoods League. The first showing was at the Crown Zellerbach Building in San Francisco, followed by an exhibit at the California Academy of Sciences. The next public presentation will be in Chicago.

Mr. King is an electronics technician and a self-taught photographer who began taking pictures at the age of twelve.

"A long time ago," he states. When asked about training, he answered, "There are many problems of deep woods photography which one must solve for himself. It requires much time to develop a technique and the help of generous friends. I have never been able to express myself with words, but color photography has given me a means of expression that I was totally unaware of ten years ago."

The museum is located at the corner of Forest and Central Avenues in Pacific Grove. Hours are daily from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. except Monday.

Scout Camp Closed By Road Damage

The road to Boy Scout Camp Pico Blanco, located 26 miles southeast of Monterey, has been officially closed because of serious landslides resulting from over 50 inches of rain during the last two months. The decision was made at the Scout Executive Board meeting held last Thursday, March 6.

The 1,500 acre camp is owned and operated by the Monterey Bay Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, and is considered one of the finest boys' camps in the country by National Boy Scout officials.

However, the maintenance of a 4 mile road extending from the country road in the Los Padres National Forest, has been a constant problem since the camp was built in 1952. The problem the Boy Scouts now face is that until the road can be rebuilt, which may take many weeks, and until funds can be found to do the work necessary, the camp cannot be used by the over 7,000 boys enrolled in the Scout council. Help is needed.

Scouting officials working on the problem include Emil Wolff of Salinas, camp development chairman; Frank Quadro of Monterey, council camping chairman; Robert Goepfert, camp director and Frank Buck, Scout Executive for the council.

GI SANTA CLAUS — Jose Fernandes, now home at 11 Rio Road, Carmel, knows the value of American Red Cross activities. Last year, as a member of the 282nd Assault Helicopter Unite at Danang, Fernandez loaded gift bags from ARC into his chopper on December 23 for delivery to front line troops. "It was great duty," Jose says. "I took along a chaplain, and those front line guys were really glad to see us and get their gifts." The annual Red Cross fund drive is now in progress so that more gifts may be delivered by GI Santas in 1969.

TAKING THE "NO" OUT OF "NO ANSWER" is the job of the telephone answering services. These businesses (not a part of Pacific Telephone) answer the phone for people who need to receive calls at all hours—people like doctors, lawyers and salesmen. Since the first answering service was established forty-four years ago, the number in California has risen to more than 600, serving over 100,000 clients around the clock. These services are just a part of the expanding range of telephone uses. You'll find them listed in the Yellow Pages of your phone book.

Pacific Telephone is one of the sponsors who are bringing you all the great San Francisco Giants baseball games again this year on radio. So be sure to join us for another exciting season!

We at Pacific Telephone would like to take this opportunity to remind all Monterey Peninsula residents of the fine recreation program that youngsters have in the Little and Babe Ruth Baseball Leagues. Anyone who would like to sponsor, support or participate in both or one of these programs can do so by calling 372-0430.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Where the Blue Danube Waltzes One Dines Divinely"

Who said the Danube is always blue? That's the title of Explorerama's next Carmel showing on Saturday, March 22 at 8:15 Sunset Auditorium.

When we were in Vienna the famed river was brownish. But there isn't a doubt that the music and food were plu-perfect.

As the travel-adventure film, narrated by Phil Walker, will follow the Danube's shores through seven countries, what a wide range from which to choose for pre-cinema or after-theater dining!

Actually a light 'snack' comes first. Then it is indeed a repast, but complete, for opera singers and admirers . . . after the lengthy Die Walkure or Parsifal in Central European grand opera houses.

We'll tell about the less complicated dishes more suitable for Carmel music and travel addicts taken from various reliable sources (and simplified by "Party Plans").

Let's start with something to satisfy the starving singers right off. No preparation is necessary (in Vienna or Carmel). This is put together at the last moment.

Viennese Schlemmer Schnitte

One fourth lb. pure chopped raw beef; 1 egg yolk; pinch of salt; 1 t. olive oil; 1 t. ketchup; 1 anchovy, finely minced; 5 capers, finely chopped; dash of Worcestershire sauce (called sauce Anglaise in Europe); freshly ground pepper to taste; buttered toast (or packaged melba rounds); 1 t. caviar; parsely, sliced dill pickles.

One serving.

Before we give directions: This is served raw, minus cooking! Each could make his/her own . . . or skip it all and turn to the next suggestion. So : . . combine meat, egg yolk and condiments. Mix and pile on one large slice of buttered toast or surround your "Steak Tartare" with melba toast rounds and eat daintily while sipping. Garnish with parsley sprigs and sliced pickles for extra nibbling.

Here is a West German Mulled Red Wine to go with the Viennese fortifier. (We're following the Danube, dish by dish!

Gluehwein

In a large saucepan combine 4 cups dry red wine with 1 cup sugar, 8 whole cloves and ¼ t. cinnamon. Bring to a gentle boil, cover and simmer for 15 minutes and drain cloves. Carmel has pottery mugs, there's plenty of choice . . . with your names on them too. Makes 4-6 servings?

The next stop is "dashing via submarine" in the Danube's Czechoslavian waters. So we'll have something quickly downed:

Consomme with Liver Dumplings

One lb. boiling beef; 2 carrots, scraped, 2 peeled onions, 2 stalks celery, all chopped fine. (American note: or use half a small can dehydrated vegetable flakes.) Simmer until meat is tender, adding water, salt and pepper to taste as liquid evaporates.

In meantime, grind ½ lb. veal or beef liver and mash with margarine (or butter). Add 1 t. marjoram, 1 or 2 cloves of garlic, finely minced, with 2 cups breadcrumbs. This dumpling dough should be light and is made so by adding 2 beaten eggs, mixing without toughening.

Remove meat and vegetable from soup. Drop small dumplings by teaspoonfuls into boiling stock. Cook 10 minutes. Add chopped fresh parsley and serve in cups. Another U.S. version, via Party Plans, is to open canned consomme or bouillon and add a dash of whatever to suit your operatic or cinematic mood. Serve hot or cold . . . or at room temperature.

As we've already covered casseroles in "Party Plans" March 6 issue about the Balkan - Yugoslavia - Bulgarian preferences, along the Danube, we'll conclude with some Romainian specialties as presented in "What's Cooking Around the World," the international cookbook put out by the Defense Language Institute's (Presidio of Monterey) Women's Club.

Romanian Artichokes
Artisho cu Parmezan

Six fresh artichokes; 6 t. grated Parmesian cheese; 12 cloves garlic, chopped fine; 1 t. chopped fresh parsley; 2 t. olive oil; 2 cups water, salted lightly.

Remove tough outer leaves of artichokes, cut off tips, "tap on table upside down to open artichokes a little," but do not break off leaves. Wash well in salted water, then drain upside down.

Prepare this filling: Mix together well the cheese, chopped garlic (more or less?) anchovies and parsley and fill between each artichoke leaf. Place in large pot, greased with 1 t. olive oil and set aside. Pour olive oil over each artichoke and add the water. Cook slowly, covered, for about 1 hour. Turn upside down to drain. Serve hot or cold. Hollandaise or drawn butter are expected, plus just quartered lemons. (Carmel's artichoke fields can profit from this marvelous way to glamorize our own artichokes (from Castroville also).

And for dessert before the Danube disappears:

Prajitura cu Lamaie
Lemon Loaf Cake

One fourth lb. softened butter; 5 eggs, separated; 2/3 cup sugar; 1 cup sifted cake flour, plus 3 t. grated rind and juice or 1 lemon; 2 t. chopped nuts.

Cream butter, add yolks and sugar, beating until fluffy. Lightly fold in sifted flour, lemon juice and grated rind. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into well buttered loaf pans 3x6 inches. Sprinkle on top with chopped nuts. Bake in preheated 350 F. oven about 1 hour or until nicely done.

Who will waltz now?

But we can always sing praises!

Movie Review

The Impossible Years — A barrel of laughs, and what else can there be when David Niven plays comedy. Captivating newcomer Crisina Ferrare in this farce of modern teenagers.

Where Were You When the Lights Went Out? — Comedy based on the November, 1965 power blackout in New York. Doris Day and Patrick O'Neal.

The Stalking Moon — Terror and suspense film about the frontier with Gregory Peck as a veteran of the West who helps Eva Maria Saint. Villian is a vengeful Indian.

99 Women — Prison picture with both men and women's prisons in proximity. Mostly shot in prisons with some relief by jungle scenes when three of the girls escape.

Weekend — Savage comment on the violence and moral breakdown of today's society. Pretty rough stuff, but interspersed with some good comedy bits.

Sam Whiskey — Thievery in reverse in the old West. Angie Dickenson tries to put back money her husband stole from the mint. Burt Reynolds, Clint Walker and Ossie Davis try to help her.

Hell in the Pacific — Only two actors in this WWII film, Lee Marvin as an American flyer and Toshiro Mifune as a Japanese soldier. Both are the only men on a remote Pacific Island.

The Sergeant — Sensitive portrayal of a gruff Army sergeant by Rod Steiger who returns to an Army post in France after WW II. Convincing dialogue and outstanding acting.

The Lion In Winter — Peter O'Toole and Katherine Hepburn turn in outstanding performances in this drama of Henry II and his queen. Great dialogue and a great film.

Charly — Experimental brain surgery changes a mentally retarded young man into a brilliant adult confronted with new and serious problems. Cliff Robertertson, Claire Bloom.

Countdown — A space adventure film about the race with the Russians to land the first astronaut on the moon.

'Everybody Loves Opal' Opens Friday With Babs Richardson As 'Opal'

In "Everybody Loves Opal," opening Friday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel, Babs Richardson recreates the title role for which she won acclaim in an earlier production of the John Patrick comedy. Her willingness to undertake the part again prompted the Studio to revive the previous success.

Before coming to Carmel, Mrs. Richardson acted with stock companies in Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, in addition to working in radio and television. She had a "one woman show" at the Circle Theatre some years ago and her portrayal of the mother in "The Glass Menagerie" at the Studio enhanced her local reputation.

The three con artists who bungle various outlandish schemes to do away with Opal for her insurance are played by actors of broad experience. Suzann Newell, appearing as Gloria, a gun moll type, has been in numerous musicals, including "Oklahoma," "Guys and Dolls," "Bells Are Ringing" and most recently "The Roar of The Greasepaint" at the Circle.

Brad is enacted by T. L. Marr who has previously done "The Subject Was Roses," "Advise and Consent" and "Gypsy."

The third inept assassin, Solomon, is James Lancina who has contributed a series of notable vignettes to Studio productions as one of the poker players in "The Odd Couple," the eccentric editor in "Generation" and the drunken neighbor in "Send Me No Flowers."

The part of the police officer will be handled for the first two weekends by Rod Allison who played The Boy in "The Fantasticks" at the Studio and was recently a lead in "The Roar of The Greasepaint" and thereafter by Mike Wililams who did "Guys and Dolls" at the Studio, followed by "When We Are Married" at the Circle.

Under the direction of Dave Kirk, "Everybody Loves Opal" will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights at the Studio through May 4. Reservations for dinner and show or show alone may be made at 624-1561 or 624-2321.

Yale Russ Chorus At Sunset Monday

The 30-voice Yale Russian Chorus will present a concert of folk, military and liturgical music Monday, Mar. 24 at 8:15 p.m. in Sunset Auditorium, Carmel.

This internationally famous group has won worldwide acclaim. Sponsored by the Yale Club of Palo Alto — Monterey, net proceeds of the concertwill go to their scholarship fund to help send local students to Yale University.

Reservations and tickets are available through the Central Box Office — Mission & Sixth in Carmel. Phone 624-6739. Tickets may also be purchased at the box office the night of the performance.

Chairman of the event is Mr. Borell Kirschen of Pacific Grove and committee members include William Boone, Carmel Valley; Robert Arenz, Carmel and Edward Roberts, Pebble Beach.

Theatre Guide

When We Are Married — Typical British drawing room comedy laid in a small village at the turn of the century. The cast is excellent, the laughs frequent, the chuckles almost continuous. Fine stage fare at the Circle Theatre.

Young Artists Romp With Shakespeare

The Young Artists' Theater has done it again, this time putting on its contemporary dress version of Shakespeare underneath the Forest Theater.

Meant to show the timelessness and relevance of Shakespeare's characterizations, it largely succeeded, especially in the last act, the "MacBeth" portion of the evening.

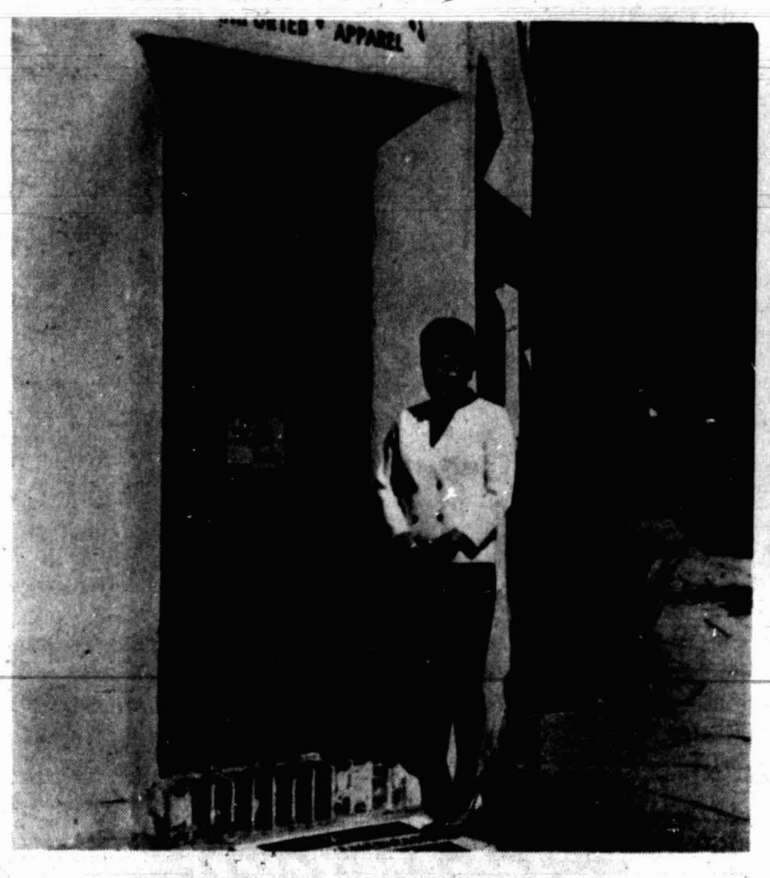
Like the Orson Welles version of "Julius Caesar" which appeared on Broadway a number of years ago to point up the similarities between the Roman Empire and the Mussolini-Hitler regimes, the Young Artists, merely by gestures, action and the donning of berets and pistol belts, showed unmistakably their opinion of the United States stance in Vietnam.

The first act was largely a romp and consisted of excerpts from several Shakespeare plays, the funniest portion being the Pyramus and Thisbe scene from "Midsummer's Night Dream."

The five young players, former MPC drama students, were introduced in director Dave Allen's own way, by large, blown-up color photographs taken at the beach on which their names were scratched in the sand: Ronald Guillemette (who directed "White America" and "Waiting for Godot"), Sylvia Razey, Jean Rousseau, Mary Babe and Jolen Bowen. All played many parts.

The set consisted of five large cubes, decorated in abstract designs by Nils Westerland, which were moved about as needed for effective groupings.

"Shakespeare Underground" will be playing weekends, at 8:30 through Mar. 30. M. H.



PATRIOTIC MOTIF — Mrs. Annette Fuhrman of the Sweater Corner, models a full fashioned Hong Kong knit in the latest style double breasted blazer with gold buttons for accents. Also available in single breasted and the colors for 1969, white, blue or red.

Laky To Instruct 10-Week Workshop

Mat Laky of Carmel, who is associated with the architectural firm Skidmore, Owings and Merrill in Washington, D.C. is one of three instructors who will conduct an adult workshop series at the Smithsonian Institution for a period of ten weeks beginning Mar. 26.

This series will deal with "Involvement in the changing city" and Washington, D.C. will serve as a laboratory of study. The object of the course is to bring about an understanding of the critical issues facing our changing cities in a total city context, and to establish some criteria for real solutions, not Utopian ideals.

The Smithsonian Associates present various classes in the arts, sciences and humanities — to provide non-competitive interest for people of all ages.

Marbelesque Style At Verdult's

By Louise Cook

A new gallery has opened on Ocean Avenue, upstairs in the Doud Arcade. It exhibits exclusively the oil paintings of William Verdult.

Verdult, who is also a sculptor, is a great admirer of Michaelangelo, as well as the ancient Greek artists.

This is shown in the unique oil studies he has made of many well known marble statues. He brings the cold marble to life and at times gives it flesh tones.

Everyone will recognize Rodin's "The Kiss" and "Morning" from Michaelangelo's de Medici tomb.

Penetrating portraits by Verdult reveal intense faces emerging from dark backgrounds, their character etched into their expressions. Many have the feeling of Biblical characters.

Another facet of this artist's talent is shown in the extreme realism he gives to abandoned buildings and sagging doorways. These are all done with meticulous attention to detail. For added variety there are paintings of missions and mountains.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

The Yale Russian Chorus will be at Sunset Auditorium next Monday, Mar. 24 at 8:15 p.m. The Chorus is being sponsored by the Yale Club of Palo Alto-Monterey. Proceeds of the concert will be used for the Yale Scholarship Fund.

The chorus was organized in 1954 by Denis Mickiewicz, a Latvian-born music student, who assembled a group of graduate and undergraduate students, who had a lively interest in Russian culture and who wanted to participate in, and communicate this interest to others.

Today the chorus is a carefully trained ensemble with a unique musical expertise; it is a scholarly group with ideals and goals which use and transcend the diverse academic specialties represented. It seeks to extend its heritage by combining these features.

The signing of the Lacy-Zarubin agreement on cultural exchange with the Soviet Union in 1958 provided the first opportunity for a widening of the paths of communication between the chorus and its audiences.

Since most of the members of the chorus were proficient in the Russian language, the idea of visiting Russia appealed very strongly to the group. Funds were raised from Yale alumni and educational foundations to finance their first trip to the Soviet Union in 1958.

The chorus has made six summer tours of Europe and has sung in almost every country in West and East Europe. It has given many formal concerts and a host of informal, almost spontaneous concerts in parks, churches and student gatherings.

It sang at the 1000th anniversary of the founding of the Duchy of Luxembourg, at an international conference of the French National Student Federation, at the Montreal World's Fair, and at the Tenth Yugoslavian Choral Festival.

The group has attended the past three World Youth Festivals in Vienna, Helsinki and Sofia. It has appeared on Soviet-American exchange radio and television broadcasts. The chorus won first prize for male chorus at the second Festival de Chant Choral in Lille, France, in competition with more than sixty other groups.

The Yale Russian Chorus gives a number of concerts every year in the United States. Some are large musical events in municipal auditoriums, others are university sponsored. Recently the chorus sang at the annual Ambassadors' Dinner preceding the opening of the United Nations' twenty-third General Assembly.

The chorus sponsors the annual Festival of Slavic Music in New Haven, bringing together Slavic dancers and singers. During the spring vacation the chorus tours the United States.

For tickets please contact the Central Box Office, phone 624-6739.

Swift Cruises To Channel Islands

Spaces are still available on the schooner "Swift" for the spring flower trips to the Channel Islands on Mar. 22 and 23, the Sierra Club has announced.

The winter rains have created ideal conditions for extensive displays of wild flowers which are expected to be in full bloom by the last weeks of March.

The public is invited to join club members on the cruises which will leave the Santa Barbara public dock at 7:30 a.m. and return approximately 6:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

State Tax Board

The Franchise Tax Board will open a temporary office at the City Hall Council Chambers, 580 Pacific Ave. in Monterey on Apr. 2 and 3 to answer questions or advise on particular problems.

The Board is offering this special assistance to taxpayers in the area who are having difficulty preparing their 1968 California personal income tax returns.

Huff said that a sampling of returns indicates that a number of taxpayers are confused by changes in the personal income tax law resulting from passage of Proposition 1A last November.

The Board representative will be there to assist taxpayers only and cannot accept cash in payment of the tax liability. Taxpayers who intend to submit their payment at the temporary office should offer a personal check or obtain a money order.

The happiness of your life depends upon the quality of your thoughts, therefore guard them accordingly.

The Importance of an Entry

ASK ANY MOTHER
What she wants in her new home and she'll reply immediately, "an entry hall!" She is primarily interested in regulating the flow of family traffic, so the living room stays guest-ready and the family is able to go separate ways to their separate pursuits. SHE would love our big house in Carmel near Woods School, especially if she has a really big family with a lot of interests. Many bedrooms, many baths, many square feet of happy living. Price is $59,500. Ask for a photo.

ASK ANY PARTY-GIVER
what room could she not do without, and she'll tell you it's the entry hall — the place where guests can enter and leave graciously without disrupting the whole party. Party-givers would love the property at the cross-roads of golf in M.P.C.C. First it has an entry courtyard, completely walled from the street. Then it has a lovely entry with stonelite tile, one closet for owners' coats and a big one for guests' wraps, a floor-to-ceiling opaque window, handsome doors, fine wall for a lavabo or credenza and mirror. Enter either the living room or family room from here. The price is a firm $67,500, and every other part of this handsome property justifies it as completely as does its elegant entry.

BOTH OF THESE TYPES
will revel in our brand new home on Mora Lane in the Forest. The entry here will hold 10 to 20 people all saying goodbye or hello at once, and the kids can still scoot by into their bedroom wing, or into the family room. So pretty you could even extend the dining table to a mammoth length right on out into this entry hall. This is a friendly house with wainscoated and papered walls throughout, a Spanish style fireplace in the living room and a real Early-American kind in the den. You're bound to have guests, and you will bless the entry which makes their reception so pleasant. Price is $65,000.

ASK ANY RECLUSE
And he'll let you know that an entry hall to him serves the primary purpose of keeping his other rooms away from the public view. He'll love a long entry, with beautiful stone walls and clerestory windows with a waterfall at the end. In fact, the guest here will be so fascinated he'll walk right by studio, darkroom, bedroom and kitchen, directly into the living room with its waterfall and its brook. If this sounds ridiculous, but still you're curious, and if you can use a small size house with big size architectural interest, at a price of $37,500, INQUIRE!
